

Armenian memorial plans outlined

July 15, 2006

I READ with interest "Armenian memorial on Greenway gets go-ahead" (Page C1, July 7). I'd like to make sure Globe readers understand some facts about our plans for this important public space.

The park is a gift from the Armenian-American community to the people of Greater Boston, the Commonwealth, and all who visit here. We have not and will not seek public funds for the design, construction, or upkeep of the park.

Parcel 13 is roughly a half acre. The vast majority of this space will be open lawn, trees, benches, and a labyrinth of inlaid stones.

The design includes a geometric sculpture on a 225-square-foot reflecting pool. The sculpture would represent all immigrant groups who have left their countries of origin and reestablished here in new and different configurations.

We have also established a $500,000 endowment for an annual lecture series at Faneuil Hall on human rights, in cooperation with the Bostonian Society.

We look forward to being a small part of the renaissance of Boston's waterfront and downtown made possible by the Central Artery Project.
